Coralville to Create New Comprehensive Plan

The City of Coralville is in the early stages of updating its comprehensive plan, which will serve as a foundation for decision-making for years to come. Some sections of the existing plan were created in 1992; the most recent update was in 1998. Public participation will be important to the process as land use and development, transportation, neighborhoods, parks and open space, the environment, and community facilities are reviewed with orderly and planned growth in mind.

The planning process involves workshops, interviews, and focus groups that will allow citizens to identify and talk about the community issues and priorities they feel are most important. Business owners will also be invited to participate in a separate workshop focusing on issues and challenges related to establishing, growing, and maintaining a business in Coralville. An interactive project website will allow people to track the project and provide feedback online.

This planning process will take approximately twelve months to complete and will ultimately help to foster a stewardship for the community and address quality of life issues for all residents. Through a request for qualifications, submittal, and interview process, the City has selected Houseal Lavigne Associates of Chicago, working with HDR of Cedar Rapids, to guide the process.

WINTER

New Restaurant Coming to Iowa River Landing

Another new project for the Iowa River Landing was announced in October: 30hop, an urban-industrial eating and drinking establishment complete with rooftop patio will be constructed on the corner of East 9th Street and East 2nd Avenue.

The 6,500 square-foot restaurant will open in the summer of 2013 with a contemporary menu featuring local ingredients and 40 beers on tap.

The name 30hop fuses the popular moniker for the centerpiece of Rockefeller Center in downtown Manhattan, 30 Rock, with an essential craft beer ingredient, hops.

Partners in 30hop include Erik Shewmaker, Matthew Swift, Brian Flynn, and Dan Blum. Koester Construction is the general contractor for a design by George Pappageorge of Pappageorge Haymes. The partners anticipate employing 60 to 70 when the restaurant opens.

New Clinic Opens at Iowa River Landing

University of Iowa Health Care – Iowa River Landing is a new medical office building with free on-site parking. This environmentally-friendly 150,000 square foot building offers primary and specialty care services – plus a pharmacy, hearing aid center, optical shop, and a children’s play area. For more information, visit www.uihealthcare.org/irl or call 855.467.3700.

Snow Removal

Parking & Snow Removal

Parking between 2:00 am and 6:00 am on City streets in Coralville is not permitted in any season. If a street is not passable by the plow because of a parked vehicle, the street may not be plowed.

The City appreciates your patience and awareness of safety while driving during snow and ice removal. For more information, call 319.248.1740.

Shovel Around Fire Hydrants

The Coralville Fire Department requests the public's assistance removing snow from fire hydrants this winter. Residents should clear a three-foot area around fire hydrants on their property so that firefighters can quickly identify and access the fire hydrant in the event of a fire. The department also asks residents to assist any neighbors who may have difficulties clearing snow from around fire hydrants.

Snowy Sidewalk

Q&A

When do I need to clear my walkways?

In Coralville, property owners are required to remove accumulations of snow and ice from their public sidewalks within 24 hours after the snow/ice event ends. The City inspects covered sidewalks on a complaint basis.

My neighbors haven't shoveled their walks. The snow ended over 24 hours ago. What can I do?

- Help. Ask if you can lend a hand. Acts of kindness help to build strong neighborhoods.
- Talk. If you are comfortable, share your concerns nicely with your neighbor. You may find they already have plans to take care of it.
- Report. If you aren't comfortable with any of the above or the uncleared walkway poses a safety hazard, report the issue. Call 319.248.1740, stop by City Hall during business hours, or report it at www.coralville.org/letusknow.

To make the best use of City resources, include accurate addresses, descriptions, and street names when reporting issues.

What will the City do about it?

The City inspects nuisance reports within two business days as weather and staff resources allow, prioritizing hazardous issues.

If no violation is found, no further action is taken.

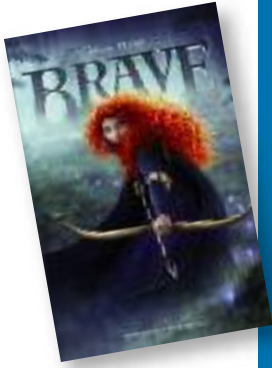

If the City determines that a public sidewalk hasn't been cleared within 24 hours of accumulation:

1. A notice is posted on the door of the property.
2. Property owners have 24 hours from the violation notice to remove snow or ice accumulations from their sidewalks.
3. If sidewalks remain uncleared upon re-inspection, the City will clear the snow/ice and assess the removal costs against the property owner. Fees are based upon the amount of time required to clear the walkway.

Luminaries Light the Night Sunday, December 16

2012 marks Coralville's 32nd annual luminaria tour. Join Coralville residents and light luminaries along your sidewalks at 5:00 pm on Sunday, December 16 – good weather or bad!

How to Participate: Pick up sacks (partially donated by Hy-Vee and Hawkeye Food-service) and sand (donated by Hawkeye Ready Mix), from your neighborhood block captain. To find your block captain or volunteer to be one, please contact area coordinator Herb Staub at 319.351.3848. If your neighborhood doesn't have a block captain, you can still participate!

Individuals are responsible for purchasing votive candles. Leno & Cilek Ace Hardware has them available and donates a portion of the sale back to Aisle of Lights to fund next year's activities.

Place sacks approximately every third sidewalk section, and ask evening guests to park off the street to allow for easier traffic flow. Light your candles to be ready for viewing by 5:00 pm on Sunday, December 16.

Each participant is asked to clean up by 9:00 am Monday.

Donations: Please donate $1 to your block captain to cover the cost of materials. Additional contributions can be made at Ace Hardware or the City of Coralville offices.

Keeping citizens informed.

Johnson County uses the CodeRED phone emergency notification service for mass public safety notices. During an emergency, the CodeRED system calls registered numbers and delivers pre-recorded messages to targeted areas at a rate of up to 60,000 calls per hour.

The notification system is geographical-based, which means street addresses are needed to select which phone numbers receive emergency notification calls in any given situation.

Who Should Sign Up?

This free opt-in service is available to all Johnson County residents. Individuals and businesses can add their own phone number(s) directly to the CodeRED system's telephone database. CodeRED is also recommended for individuals, such as rental property managers or nearby relatives, interested in receiving emergency information related to a Johnson County address.

Businesses, individuals with an unlisted phone number, those who have changed their phone number or who recently moved, anyone using a cell phone as their primary phone, or those new to the area (including students) who have a non-Johnson County cell number should register.

The information is confidential and is only used for emergency notification purposes and an annual test.

To sign up or check your registration, visit www.jecc-ema.org and click on CodeRED. A free CodeRED mobile app is also available.

Those without internet access can give their information over the phone at 319.356.6762 and leave a message with their first and last name, street address, city, state, zip code, and primary and alternate phone numbers.

For more information, contact the Johnson County Joint Emergency Communications Center Emergency Management Agency at 319.356.6762.
